

ACQUISITIONS & CONTRACT MANAGEMENT

HELP U.S. TRANSPORTATION COMMAND
GET WHAT IT NEEDS, WHEN IT'S NEEDED

Together, we deliver.

Looking for a chance to make a difference? Look no further! We invite you to consider the rewarding and challenging career opportunity of serving as a contracting civilian with the United States Air Force at US Transportation Command.

Contracting professionals are at the heart of a complex process of satisfying Air Force requirements for everything from complex logistical missions such as transportation of troops, humanitarian aid around the world, or the acquisition and movement of cargo and services necessary for the day-to-day operation of a military operation. Throughout the process, contracting personnel must ensure procedures are followed which reflect the proper interpretation of a myriad of laws and regulations, and which are capable of withstanding the scrutiny of the Federal Courts, the General Accounting Office, the United States Congress, and the American public.

Come join us and be part of a dynamic team responsible for all facets of contracting, as strategic sourcing experts providing innovative business solutions.
